Stave's System of Action for a System of Action Protects Global Systems

The Global Combat Support System (GCSS) is the single integrated system of action for U.S. Army logistic capabilities. It manages the functionality associated with the business areas of supply, maintenance, property, and tactical finance. As a world-wide digital platform, GCSS, supports thoughts of users, multi-millions of dollars in operational assets, and multi-trillions of dollars in capital assets.

As they understood the value of enterprise-grade software platforms, GCSS came to Stave to help them manage their ability to secure and protect the technological infrastructure required and used to complete their global mission.

Stave Cybersecurity Manager
Cybersecurity Manager is the solution to ensuring compliance with Information Assurance Vulnerability Alerts (IAVAs) issued by US Cyber Command, CERT, DISA and others in accordance with the Risk Management Framework (RMF). Cybersecurity Manager, helps automate most of the tedious processes in patch management and compliance issues.
